INTRODUCTION

I have chosen to publish this album of maps ahead of the final fascicles on the Roman Roads and Milestones, RRMAM 4, The Roads, partly because these maps form an essential complement to the six fascicles of RRMAM 3. The Milestones, but largely because too many people have asked for maps such as are reproduced here.

I have, therefore, attempted pictorially to distil here the results of my researches and field-work on the roads in the form of 22 maps in six groups covering the six provinces of Roman Imperial Asia Minor. As an immediate guide each group of maps is supported by the same synopses maps which were used in the six fascicles of RRMAM. At the same time each individual map is accompanied by a list of the designated roads and numbered milestones.

2. ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Immeasurable indebtedness, as ever, is owed to Brian Williams, who prepared the drawings of the maps, and to Abigail Robinson, who carried out the formatting of the fascicule.

I received much encouragement and support from Stephen Mitchell and Benet Salway and from Lutgarde Vanderput, Director of the British Institute at Ankara.

Financial assistance for the production of the maps came from the British Institute at Ankara and most generously from Linda Witherill who has continued unstintingly to support the publication of archaeological research in the UK and in the East Mediterranean.
