Colour figures for Chapter 24. Building 108

Burcu Tung

Figure 24.4. The backside of oven F.7108 through F.3626. The placement of the smaller bricks above the oven seems very deliberate, as if it was being protected (photograph by Arek Klimowicz).

Figure 24.5. Close-up of northern wall F.3626. Mudbrick (20678) clearly shows signs of rubification from its outer edge, the edge abutting B.77 (photograph by Arek Klimowicz).

Figure 24.8. West-facing view of 20920.x1 and 20920.x4 in between B.108 and B.113 (photograph by Arek Klimowicz).
