Colour & scalable figures for Chapter 31. Building 132 and related spaces

Arkadiusz Klimowicz and Burcu Tung

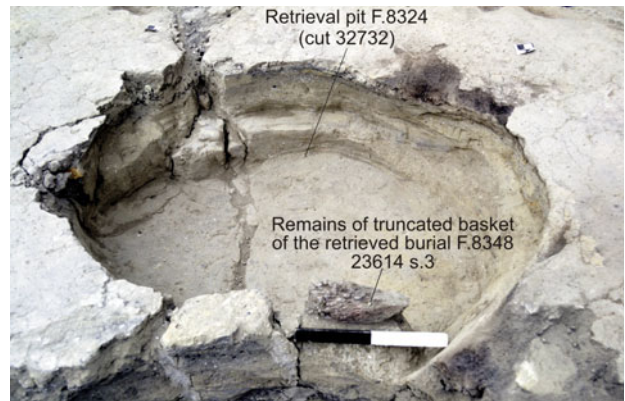

Figure 31.12. In situ remains of basket 23614.s3 found within pit F.8324, very likely originally belonging to a burial event defined as F.8348 (photograph by Arek Klimowicz).

Figure 31.17. West-facing view of eastern support wall F.7736. Notice the extensive truncation of all features surrounding this wall during the abandonment of B.132. Also, the gap between the support wall and the eastern wall is remarkable, caused by the existence of posts, as evidenced by their post-retrieval pits (photograph by Jason Quinlan).

Figure 31.18. Column F.7727 abutting northern wall F.7584, partially excavated, revealing animal bone 32765.x1 and flat stone 32765.x2 embedded within its matrix (photograph by Arek Klimowicz).

Figure 31.20. Southwest-facing view of oven F.7732 cut into division wall F.3679. The kerb is evident on the right-hand side of the oven. Hearth F.8327 is immediately to the northeast of the partially truncated oven (photograph by Jason Quinlan).

Figure 31.30. East-facing view of white plaster coating (32089) on platform F.7734. Notice the stepped cut that was filled with a different material at the top for burial F.7747 (photograph by Arek Klimowicz).
